UNITED METHODIST RETIREMENT COMMUNITIES HIRES TODD HANSELMAN AS EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR OF CHELSEA RETIREMENT COMMUNITY

CHELSEA, Mich. – United Methodist Retirement Communities (UMRC), a leader in independent and assisted senior living, has promoted Todd Hanselman to Executive Director of Chelsea Retirement Community (CRC), from director of human resources. Hanselman's primary focus will be operational oversight of all areas of the Chelsea campus, including Independent Living, Glazier Assisted Living, Kresge Healthcare Center and Towsley Village Memory Care Center.

Prior to being named executive director, Hanselman spent more than 14 years at UMRC in the human resources department. He began his career at UMRC as the employment manager at Boulevard Temple in 1997, moving to CRC in 2000 to serve as HR manager.

He earned a bachelor's degree in Human Resources Development from Oakland University and is a Certified Professional of Human Resources through the Society for Human Resources Management and HR Certification Institute. He resides in Livonia.

Building on a foundation of more than 100 years of service, United Methodist Retirement Communities is a faith-based, non-profit organization that promotes the wellness, dignity and independence of older adults, by providing high quality, innovative and compassionate senior residential care services across Southeast Michigan.
